St. Gabriel 1 and Drillmar Update

Austin Exploration Limited ("Austin") (ASX code: AKK) today announced that Drillmar Oil & Gas, Inc. has confirmed a drilling schedule for the deepening of the St. Gabriel 1 prospect. Site construction is now underway and drilling should begin shortly.

The company will communicate further updates as drilling progress takes place.

About St. Gabriel 1

In March 2007, drilling was halted 500 feet short of target depth of 10,800 feet due to an abnormally high pressure formation. Estimated high drilling costs and drilling risk due to the high pressure saw Austin opt for a farm-out agreement with Drillmar.

Under the agreement Austin and its private investors will maintain a cumulative 20% Working Interest After Payout (WIAPO) reserve while Drillmar will assume 100% of the ownership, rights and obligations related to the well, the unit leases and the adjoining leases. The agreement does not impact Austin's ability to drill new wells in this area.

Drillmar has reprocessed the 3D Seismic data at its own expense and will present Aus-Tex, Austin's wholly owned subsidiary, with a subsurface map delineating the seismic anomaly related to the proposed deepening of the well and any unleased acreage within the outline of the anomaly.

The St. Gabriel #1 prospect has a potential recoverable resource range from a low case of 1.82 million barrels of oil and 13.6 billion cubic feet of gas to a high case of 5 million barrels of oil and 36 billion cubic feet of gas. This range is based on an independent geological assessment.
